If students in the Summer Session or short winter courses in the College of Agriculture shall withdraw within five days after the first registration day for the session or course, or if a student in any other course or department than those last mentioned shall withdraw from the University within twenty days after the first registration day for a term, any tuition paid by him or liability incurred therefor may for reasons satisfactory to the Comptroller and Registrar be refunded or cancelled.

10. On application at the time of withdrawal a student in the Summer Session withdrawing within two weeks from the first registration day for such session, or a student in the winter course in the College of Agriculture withdrawing within four weeks from the first day of registration for said course, or a student in the Medical College in New York withdrawing before December 1st, or a student in any other department withdrawing not later than November 15th in the first term or April 1st in the second term, may, for reasons satisfactory to the Comptroller and the Registrar, or in the case of the Medical College in New York, to the Dean thereof, have refunded to him one-half of the tuition paid by him for said session, course, or term.

ARTICLE V. FELLOWSHIPS AND GRADUATE SCHOLARSHIPS.

1. All applications for Fellowships and Graduate Scholarships must be filed with the Dean of the Graduate School on or before the 15th of March of the collegiate year preceding the year for which the application is made. Blank forms for application may be obtained from the Dean.

2. The term of each fellowship and graduate scholarship shall be one year, but this term may be extended to two years, providing the extension does not increase the number of fellows and graduate scholars beyond that named in paragraph 1 of Article XIX of the Statutes.

3. The moneys due on fellowships and graduate scholarships shall be payable at the office of the Treasurer of the University in six equal installments, on October 15, December 1, January 15, February 15, April 1, and June 1.

4. No person shall hold at one time more than one fellowship or graduate scholarship, except in the case hereafter specified under paragraph 9 of these rules, and any fellow or scholar may be dispossessed of the income of the fellowship or graduate scholarship by action of the Faculty of the Graduate School, if guilty of any offense or of any course of conduct which in the opinion of said Faculty shall render the holder unworthy of retaining such fellowship or graduate scholarship, but final action in such cases by the Faculty shall be by ballot, and shall require a two-thirds vote of those present.

5. Vacancies in fellowships and graduate scholarships which occur after October 1st, shall be filled only by a three-fourths vote of the Faculty present.

6. Every person elected to a fellowship or graduate scholarship shall be required, upon accepting his appointment to file a bond in an amount equal to the yearly value of such fellowship or graduate scholarship (with two sureties to be approved by the Comptroller), conditioned upon the repayment to the University in case of failure to complete the term for which he was appointed of any sums which he may have received.

7. In all cases where fellowships and graduate scholarships are not awarded, or where, from any cause, the income of one or more fellowships or graduate scholarships shall cease to be paid, or where the aggregate sum paid to the holders shall be less than the amount contemplated by this act, the surplus thus accruing shall be covered into the general income account at the close of the year.

8. Either or both of the President White Fellowships in History and Political Science may, in the discretion of the Faculty of the Graduate School, be made traveling fellowships for the purpose of study and investigation, the holder thereof making from time to time to said Faculty such reports of progress as may be required. In such case there shall be added to the regular value of the fellowship an amount equal to the amount of the tuition fee from which said fellow would have been exempt if remaining at the University. In case of a student of very exceptional ability and promise in the fields of either of these fellowships, the two fellowships may, in the discretion of said Faculty, for the sake of enabling very thorough research, be combined for a single year into one.

9. Upon the recommendation of the Faculty of the Graduate School, a University fellowship may be divided for a single year into two graduate scholarships, the value of each to be one-half of that of the divided fellowship. No fellowship shall be thus divided oftener than once in two years.

ARTICLE VI. UNDERGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIPS.

1. The holder of a University undergraduate scholarship shall forfeit his rights thereto in case he shall, during incumbency, change the course in which he registered at the time of receiving the award, unless the records of admissions shall show that, at the time of the holder's admission to the University, all the subjects required for admission to the course last chosen were passed. All candidates must state before the scholarships are awarded what course they intend to pursue.

2. Any person shall be debarred from competition for these scholarships who shall have participated in any previous competition for the same or shall have been previously registered as a student in this University, or in any other university or college.

3. Any such scholarship shall be forfeited at any time in case two-thirds of the University Faculty present at any meeting, notice of such proposed action having been given at the last preceding meeting of said Faculty, shall decide that the holder thereof has been guilty of negligence or of failure to maintain a high standard of scholarship, or of conduct of any kind that is unbecoming a scholarship holder.

4. Whenever any of these scholarships shall for any reason become vacant, the vacancy shall be filled as the University Faculty may determine.

5. The moneys due on these scholarships shall be paid at the office of the Treasurer of the University in two equal payments, on the 15th of February, and the 15th of June, upon the certificate of the chairman of the scholarship committee that the record of the holder is satisfactory.

6. Special fellowships, scholarships, and prizes shall be governed by, and administered in accordance with the terms of the gift or donation.

ARTICLE VII. MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

1. The Comptroller is authorized and directed at the close of the fiscal year, to add to the appropriations of special funds any actual income received in excess of the amount appropriated at the beginning of the year.

2. In the case of teachers and others with regular employment during the major part of the day, who desire to do special work in the University during the limited time at their disposal, the matter of adjusting the amount of tuition to be paid is referred to the Comptroller and Registrar with power.

3. The sale of refreshments, papers, or merchandise on the campus, outside of the buildings, is prohibited, except on permit to be issued by the Comptroller.

4. The University Calendar shall be governed by the following rules:

The first day of instruction shall be the last Thursday in September and Commencement shall be on Wednesday of the thirty-eighth following week.

The year shall consist of two terms, each of one hundred session days, including instruction days and days given to the examination period known as block week, but not including Sundays or vacations.

Vacations shall be as follows : Thanksgiving Day ; at Christmas an average of eleven week days ; Founder's Day ; Junior week, three days following block week, the third day, Saturday, being Registration day for the second term ; spring vacation, four week days beginning on a Thursday near the 1st of April ; Navy and Spring Day, the Saturday nearest the 30th of May.

5. Subject to the water and power needs of the University, the Hydraulic Laboratory is in charge of the College of Civil Engineering, but the Dean of the College of Civil Engineering shall provide reasonable opportunity for the use of the Hydraulic Laboratory by other departments of the University.
